The last republican state convention, without solicitation upon my part, voluntarily chose by resolution which it adopted, to endorse myself as the candidate of the republican party of this state for the high office of vice president of the United States. The effort which is now going on was started by the republican party in convention assembled. It is the republican party which is carrying forward that movement today. I am but the instrument, or the representative of the party for the purpose of accomplishing the result. The responsibility for success must not rest upon my shoulders alone, but the republican party of the state must lend its unifed energies to help us achieve the coveted honor.

PROVIDES FOR PAYMENT TO COLOMBIA Interests of Panama Canal Company Would Be Purchased Ontright and

> WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 .- Senator Morgan today introduced a bill providing for the annexation of Panama to the United States, "the rights and property of Panama resting in the United States without reserve." The bill appropriates $10,000,000 as compensation to Panama for its cessation, places $100,000,000 at the disposal of the president for the compensation of Colombia and appropriates $80,000,000 for the purchase of the property of the new Panama Canal company in Colombia, including the Panama canal. It is especially provided that the provisions of this bill shall not have the effect of repealing the Spooner act.

Mr. Douglass interjected the statement that the affidavit would apply equally and perhaps more so to Postoffice Inspector Gregory.

Justice Pritchard informed counsel on both sides that he would demand that no extraneous matter be introduced to infuence the jury, but that if it was he would take occasion to mention it when he delivered his charge to the jury.

Henry C. Lockwood, chief clerk city delivery New York postoffice, testified. Answering a question by Mr. Taggert, Mr. Lockwood said that by a letter dated February 1, 1896, he was notified that 6,006 Groff fasteners were ordered supplied to his office, without any requisition first having been made therefor. Counsel for the defense objected.

Mr. Taggert stated that his object was to show Machen was specially energetic in distributing these fasteners. Justice Pritchard announced that he would admit as competent any evidence tending to show facts in connection with the furtherance of the allegations in the indictment. He has, he said, anticipated this very question and had given it much thought. The witness then continued the testimony after counsel stated they would argue the point further tomorrow.

Lockwood explained various initials on the letters by saying they represented those of officials of the New York postoffice through whose hands the letters passed. It developed from further questioning that the initials "A. W. M." also were on the letter. On cross-examination witness said he never saw Machen sign his initials. and therefore did not know whether they were put there by Machen or one of Machen's clerks, although his familiarity with communications from the department led him to believe that it came from Machen's office. Counsel then became involved in another legal argument, as Mr. Douglass had again objected to the adno evidence to show that Machen ever saw it or even dictated it. The court held that as the government was trying to identify the initials "A. W. M." as having been made by Machen, and witness was not able to positively do so, he would require the initials to be proved before this particular testimony would be admitted. "Without such proof," court said with emphasis, "that is no evidence whatever against this defendant Machen. We will proceed according to

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.-Mr. Patterson oday completed and Mr. Platt of Connecticut began a speech on the Panama anal question. Mr. Patterson declared that the president was largely responsible for the revolt in Panama and announced his decided preference for the "Nicaraguan" route. Mr. Platt took his procouncement for Nicaragua as the text for his remarks, saying it explained the mystery of the otherwise unexplainable opposition on the part of the democratic senators of the Panama treaty. Mr. Platt then argued in support of the course of the administration in Panama, He declared that the democrats lost sight of the fact that Panama's independence was an established fact, recognized not only by the United States, but by the great nations of the earth and that if we had violated international laws, so had Great Britain, Germany and France. Without Mr. Platt's completing

HOUSE PASSES PURE FOOD ACT

Fixes Standards as Regards Purity, Strength and Character.

WILLFUL INTENT CLAUSE IS ELIMINATED

One Section of Bill Provides Penalties for Adulterations and Misbranded Goods and for Punishment of Offenders.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.-The house passed the Hepburn pure food bill today on a rising vote, 201 to 68, its oppor being unable to secure a roll call. amendment inserting the word "wilful." with reference to persons who sell adulterated or misbranded goods and which would have compelled the government to prove intent to violate the law by the venders, was stricken out on a yea and nay vote in the house. Several attempts were made to amend the bill, but no material changes were made.

The bill fixes the standard of foods and drugs as to their purity, strength and character, and defines what shall be considered adulterations or misbranding of foods and drugs. It also prohibits interstate commerce, importation and expertation of such misbranded or adulterated articles. It is proposed to enlarge the scope of the bureau of chemistry to include the bureau of foods and impose upon it the duty of performing all chemical work for the other executive departments. This bureau will be charged with the duty of inspecting food and drug products which belong to interstate or foreign commerce. The secretary of commerce is given authority to employ such chemists, inspectors, clerks and laborers as may be necessary for the enforcement of the act.

One section of the bill provides penfor the introduction of adulalties terated or misbranded foods or drinks and another section requires secretary of agriculture to prescribe rules and regulations to govern the bureau of chemistry and foods in examinations of articles required to be inspected under the law. Violations of the law shall be reported by the secretary of agriculture to the proper district attorney of the United States, who is to direct and cause proceedings without delay.

As soon as the bill was reported to the house Mr. Hepburn moved an amendment eliminating the amendment offered yesterday on motion of Mr. Stephens, dem (Tex.), which made it necessary to show 'wilful" intent on the part of persons prosecuted. Mr. Hepburn said that with the Stephens amendment in the bill to would be entirely inefficacious as a law. The Hepburn amendment was agreed to by a vote of 145 to 126. The bill then was passed by a rising vote of 201 to 68, the year and nays being refused.

Mr. Hull of Iowa, chairman of the committee on military affairs, reported the army appropriation bill and gave notice that he would call it up tomorrow.

Mr. Payne, chairman of the ways and neans committee, reported a substitute for the Hitchcock resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury to furnish the house information regarding the number of carriages furnished the department at government expense. The substitute, Mr. Payne explained, called for the same information as the original resolution. It was agreed to. Mr. Zeffor, dem. (Ind.), was granted fortyfive minutes for a speech on good roads. He maintained that the general government should bear 50 per cent of the cost of construction of public highways. At 5:30 the house adjourned,

It is expected that the exchange of views will exert a strong influence in shaping the course Russia will adopt. Among the officials and diplomats it is understood here that the exchanges will have the following results First-Russia, appreciating the decisive rature of the issues presented in Japan's last note, desires to secure the advice of its nearest political friend, and, Become-France wishes to exercise its influence to prevent war, in which it might become embroiled.

Lamsdorff Has Hard Task.

One of the most prominent diplomats said today that Count Lamsdorff's task in answering the Japanese note is one of the most difficult he ever observed, owing to Russia's dilemma, due to its determination to firmly maintain its position and at the same time comply with the czar's desire for peace. M. Delcasse's talks with members of the diplomatic corps during the last few days revealed his extreme desire for the maintenance of peace, and his advice to Russia undoubtedly followed the same lines.

It is the general impression here that if war breaks out the best diplomacy may not succeed in keeping France out of the imbroglio. Therefore, M. Delcasse, considering the self-interests of France, as well as of the Franco-Russian note of 1902, is counseling pacific adjustment. Concerning the specific character of M. Deloasse's advice, the only guide is the note of 1902, which is being much discussed in the efforts to determine its bearing on the present situation. The text of the document refers to the purposes of the two governments to safeguard the integrity of China and approves the principle that China and Corea shall remain open to the commerce and industry of all nations. This course is construed here as restricted to the eighteen provinces of old China and as not applying to Manchuria and other parts of the Chinese empire outside of old China. Therefore, while the Franco-Russian agreement is serving to bring about an exchange of views, it is held that the agreement does not limit Russia concernthe Manchuria

Sees Uncle Sam Grow Bigger. The Temps this evening published a lead-

It reflects the growing French sentiment, which to some ex tent is shared in other quarters, and says "It cannot be disguised that the appearance of the United States upon the scene is calculated to encourage Japan."

Continuing, the Temps reviews the early friendship between Russia and the United States and the alleged recent gradual estrangement, which is attributed to the ratification of the commercial treaty be tween China and the United States, and declares that this may be "according to the taken at Washington and at St. Petersburg, either the final point of departure for new complications or the happy onclusion of misunderstandings."

I have a very bad case of threat trouble for six or seven years, and doctored continually without any good results. For two years I was under the care of specialists in that line, but at the end of that time I found my breat in us bad condition as before. A friend recommended Miles Emulsion. I tried a box and have continued to use it for the past six mouths, it giving me the cally relief I have ever had. Yours respectfully, Tillis Happing, 217 N. Nuth St., October 15, 1902.
